Annual Report

July 1, 2010 - June 30, 2011

Mission

SARC's mission is to provide crisis services, support and advocacy to victims of all non-domestic violence crimes, non-offending family members, and others who are impacted by crime. We strive to create and maintain a community without violence through prevention-based education and community development initiatives.

Philosophy Statement

The Sexual Assault Response Center (SARC) views sexual assault as a means of power, control, and manipulation. Sexual violence adversely affects all members of a community, including both adults and children.

SARC supports the rights of crime victims and strives to see these rights upheld. SARC believes that every victim deserves quality information, advocacy, crisis intervention, and treatment. We support the right of a victim to make choices regarding reporting, prosecution, pregnancy, future safety, and other issues raised by the experience. It is our responsibility to provide prevention education in an effort to create a community free of violence.

SARC is committed to serving all individuals, regardless of race, gender, religion, veteran status, age, ethnic background, socio-economic status, sexual orientation, marital status, physical or mental status. SARC recognizes the importance of combating racism, homophobia, able-bodyism, and other issues of oppression in order to make services accessible to all individuals.

Crisis Program

Advocates in the Crisis Program provide services to victims of all non-domestic violence crimes, their non-offending friends and family, and serve as a resource for community members seeking assistance on crime victimization. SARC's service area includes Benton and Franklin Counties in Washington State.

SARC provides the following services in the Crisis Program:

Crisis Line: SARC's crisis line is staffed 24 hours a day by trained advocates. Advocates are available to answer questions and provide support. This line also serves as a point of contact for clients who may need immediate emergency assistance.

Legal and Medical Advocacy: SARC's agency staff and trained volunteer advocates respond to hospital calls to provide medical advocacy to victims of crime. We also provide legal advocacy at police interviews and court proceedings. Moral support and information is given to victims, families and friends.

Crisis Intervention: Advocates provide short-term crisis intervention, support, and validation for the client's feelings. We often recommend that clients also seek therapy to assist in the healing process.

Therapy Referrals: Clients receive assistance in the process of finding a counselor who is experienced in the field of sexual abuse. We also provide information regarding payment options such as sliding fee scales, insurance, and crime victim's compensation. In addition, SARC provides financial support to clients who would not otherwise be able to seek professional mental health care. On-site counseling is also available at no cost to the client.

Library: SARC has an extensive library containing a multitude of resources (including books and videos), which relate to crime victimization. The library is available to all members of the community at no cost.

Volunteer Advocates

SARC relies on volunteer advocates to staff the crisis line and respond to hospital calls when the agency is closed. Without these volunteers, the agency would not be able to provide much needed services 24-hours a day. Each advocate is required to complete 32 hours of training certified through the Washington Coalition of Sexual Assault Programs, in addition to completing 12 hours of on-going training per year. This year SARC offered two 32-hour Core Advocacy Trainings and ongoing in-service trainings (e.g. Effects of Child Abuse and Neglect on Brain Development, Sex Workers, Domestic Minor Sex Trafficking, General Crimes, Youth Suicide Prevention Program) for a total of 82 hours provided. Together these volunteers donated 14,923 hours of on-call availability:

Counseling Program

SARC is pleased to have an on-site counselor to provide services to clients who do not have insurance, Crime Victim's Compensation, or other means to afford counseling. At the beginning of the year clients were offered up to 8 sessions at no cost. As the year progressed the counseling position was increased from part time to full time, allowing clients to have access to 12 sessions at no cost – which has shown to be much more effective. Research has shown the positive impact that access to immediate counseling can have in the long term for victims of sexual assault and other crimes. Some clients will only need the twelve sessions (or less), while others will be referred to local therapists for longer-term treatment.

During fiscal year 2010/11, 387 counseling sessions were provided, serving eighty-five (85) of SARC's Crisis Program clients, 60 of whom were new to counseling during this fiscal year. Of the 60 new clients, 81% are female, 19% male.

Age of Clients:

- 1% between 0 and 5 years of age
- 7% between 6 and 11 years of age
- 31% between 12 and 18 years of age
- 61% age 19 and over

Ethnicity of Clients:

- 63% Caucasian
- 23% Hispanic
- 5% Native American
- 1% African-American
- 6% Other/Unknown

How Does Trauma-Based Counseling Work?

The purpose of trauma-based counseling is not to encourage the client to re-live the traumatic experience over and over and dwell on it. Rather, the goal of trauma counseling is to first, teach the client practical tools to help them manage common trauma-related issues such as sleep disturbance, depression, anxiety, flashbacks, and relationship issues. After the client is able to efficiently use those basic tools, evidence-based trauma treatments are provided. The treatments help the client to digest the experience(s) in a safe, healthy way in order to gain freedom from their past and move on to a happier future.

Support Groups

SARC offers support groups for non-offending parents of children who have been sexually abused, teen victims of sexual assault/abuse, children's groups, and adult survivors of child sexual abuse (a women's group and a men's group). The intent of the non-offending parent group is to educate, affirm, and empower parents to make the best choices for their children, and to offer support for parents who must face the struggles and challenges associated with child abuse. The teen group and the adult survivor groups are designed to provide support and education. The goal is for the client to acknowledge that they are not alone in the healing process, to increase understanding of anger, flashbacks, the grooming process, and to reduce self-blame. The children's group provides children ages 8-12 with an opportunity to meet other kids who have been through similar situations, to help normalize their reactions to trauma and provide new coping skills in a safe and nurturing environment.

Summer Camp

Camp SARC is a unique and innovative program that combines the rite-of-passage experience of summer day camp with group psycho-education and support for young victims of abuse. While SARC stands for the Sexual Assault Response Center, during one special week each summer, it stands for Strengthening and Revitalizing Children. Complete with wacky songs, arts and crafts, sundaes and parachute games, Camp SARC engages kids in healthy and fun activities in an environment that validates and normalizes their experiences.

June 20 – 24, 2011 was the inaugural Camp SARC and what a success!! Sixteen children participated and the experience far exceeded our expectations. Not only did the little ones self esteem grow, sense of isolation lesson, fear and anxiety reduce, and personal safety skills increase – the staff was rejuvenated and became so much more connected to the children we serve.

The five days were structured around the following group themes with a focus for each day:

Healthy Expressions: Feelings Identification, Affect Regulation, Trigger Identification, Coping Skills, and Resource Development

Healthy Connections: Active Listening and Social Skills, Respecting Others and Body Integrity, Recognizing Unhealthy Relationships, Teamwork and Interpersonal Relationships, Enhancing Healthy Relationships

Healthy Confidence: External Boundaries, Internal Boundaries and Assertiveness Training, Body Safety, Personal Safety, Self-Efficacy

Healthy Me: Self-Identity and Exploration, Recognition of Others, Trust and Empathy Building, Trust and Self-Empowerment, Future Self

While the children were learning and growing so much they had so much fun – just look at their little faces!!

Education Program

SARC offers education services throughout Benton/Franklin counties. Presentations are directed toward the prevention of sexual assault and to raise the awareness of sexual violence. All presentations are done in an age appropriate manner and are sensitive to the audiences needs. This past year our programs were revamped to be multi-session and all incorporate the following core competencies – empathy/feelings, respect for oneself/others, self and community responsibility, boundaries for oneself and others, conflict resolution/problem solving and gender stereotyping. These competencies were selected as they mirror developmental assets that extensive research has shown that youth need to avoid risk and thrive. Equipping youth with many developmental assets help them to become caring, responsible adults – which are not people that become sex offenders.

In addition to focusing on developing assets, children are equipped with knowledge and tools to help reduce the possibility of sexual victimization. Following are the programs provided:

Body and Boundary Safety - This program is designed for preschool age children. Children learn essential skills about feelings and personal space. They learn about good, bad and secret touches from our bear mascot Happy Hear and the yell and tell rule from the Sunshine Puppet Theatre.

Safe Bodies, Healthy Minds - This program is designed for children in Kindergarten - 2nd Grade. Children learn about their feelings and how to calm down strong feelings, boundaries and how to respect others boundaries, good touch, bad touch, secret touch, and the yell and tell safety rule from our Sunshine Puppet Theatre.

Personal Body Safety – This program is designed for children in 3rd – 5th grades. The program includes discussion of safety rules, assertiveness role plays, empowering children, and identifying adults children should go to when seeking help.

Creating Healthy Relationships - This program teaches teens and young adults about healthy and unhealthy relationships. The audience will learn about signs of unhealthy relationships, boundaries, how to help friends who experience unhealthy relationships, and date and acquaintance rape. Our program promotes respect, boundaries, helping others, getting in touch with your feelings, breaking gender stereotypes, and social responsibility.

Technology Safety - The technology program is for all grades – activities are adjusted to be age appropriate. Children are taught how to use technology safely and covers topics that include social media, sexting, and cyberbullying.

Harassment and Bullying Prevention – This program is provided to children in middle and high school with activities and discussions being adjusted to be age appropriate. Gender roles, attitudes and beliefs that play a dynamic part in harassment and bullying are examined. Children learn what harassment and bullying are, how to provide bystander intervention, and how to get help if being harassed or bullied.

Parent Education - Parents are given child sexual abuse information, a preview of the program in which their child will participate, and learn ways to reinforce concepts at home. Parent education is a vital component in the prevention of child sexual abuse.

General Sexual Assault - This presentation gives statistics and informs audiences about child sexual abuse, sex offenders, adult survivors, rape, social myths, laws and prevention. This presentation is offered to service clubs, businesses, churches, and to anyone interested in learning more about sexual violence.

Sexual Harassment Intervention Program (SHIP): SHIP workshops are offered once a month for two hours for students that have been charged with sexual harassment in school. This is an educational program for students who have a charge/complaint of sexual harassment against them by another student or teacher. All referrals attend the workshop together and are required to write a 500-word essay on Sexual Harassment. Information covered includes the definition of sexual harassment, victims (male and female), Impact vs. Intent, boundaries and gender stereotyping. The paper is submitted to the school principal and SARC as a part of our follow-up.

Health Fairs and Community Events

SARC is dedicated to participating in as many health fairs and community events as possible. We are committed to raising the awareness of sexual violence and preventing future sexual abuse. Our goal is to make every community member aware of our services and to provide the tools needed to reduce violence in our community. This year we participated in many different events, including the Women's Expo, Safe Parks Event, Pride, Tri-Cities Family Expo, Greater Behavioral Mental Health Fair, Responding to Autism, Health and Safety Expo, Volunteer Fair, Take Back the Night, ESD 123 Title 1 Regional Parents Conference, Circle of Caring, and Kid's Safe Summer Expo.

Special Projects

Newsletter: SARC develops and distributes a quarterly newsletter that discusses information pertaining to the prevention of sexual violence, information about local sex offenders, upcoming events, and provides a forum for individuals to voice their experience surrounding sexual violence. The newsletter is distributed to over 2,000 individuals and agencies.

Bookmarks: SARC distributes bookmarks depicting sexual assault information to local libraries and bookstores. The intent is to raise awareness, counter myths, and prevent sexual violence.

The Little People Project: Each year SARC showcases little wooden, three dimensional, figurines that represent the number of children involved in child abuse cases investigated in Benton/Franklin counties. Pasco High School, Southridge High School, Hanford High School, Kennewick High School, Kamiakin High School and Columbia Industries all contributed to the construction of the over 400 little people. These "little people" are put on display during Sexual Assault Awareness week (SAAW) in a variety of places throughout the area. Each year, the Tri-City Herald loans us a truck and driver for the project. During SAAW 2011, the "Little People" were displayed at Columbia Center Mall, Columbia Basin College, Richland Police Department, and the SARC office.

Clothesline Project: This project enables men and women who have been victims of any type of assault to express their stories artistically by designing t-shirts. Not only is the expression part of the healing process for them, the final product is also a powerful reminder to the community of assault issues. This year our Clothesline Project included over 40 t-shirts designed by local community members. We displayed our project during Washington State Sexual Assault Awareness Week, April 2nd– April 9th, 2011 at the Keewaydin and Union Branch of the Mid Columbia Libraries in Kennewick, the Connell library, Richland library, as well as the HUB at Columbia Basin College.

Community Development Projects: To achieve true social change, an agency must be able to facilitate the process of community development through mobilization to eliminate factors that cause or contribute to sexual violence. Community members as stakeholders must participate in the planning and implementation process and focus on underlying conditions that lead to sexual violence. By empowering the community through education and support, the community is able to solve their own issues. This past fiscal year we have focused our community development initiatives for those with disabilities.

Strides of Strength: Community members aiming to raise awareness on the topic of crime victimization, gathered on April 16th for a one-mile organized march along one of Kennewick's busiest streets. Strides of Strength is an annual event (previously Walk a Mile) designed to give members in our community the opportunity to publicly demonstrate their courage and commitment to victims of crime. This was SARC's fifth year organizing this event, which was attended by 177 participants – the most participants yet!! Groups included: Soroptimist, Domestic Violence Services, Elite Cheer Group, Tri Cities Residential Services, Casa Kids, and Benton-Franklin Transit. Members from law enforcement, SARC staff, volunteer advocates and board members joined in the walk down Columbia Center Blvd.

Kids Haven

Kids Haven is a joint effort between SARC and our local city and county governments. It is a program designed to meet the needs of children who have allegedly been physically and/or sexually abused.

The goal of Kids Haven is multi-faceted:

Lessen the trauma to children when they disclose they have been abused: It is difficult for children to discuss the details of their abuse. It can be made even more difficult by going to a police station, courthouse or office that can even intimidate adults. Our facility has been designed in a child friendly manner, in order to help make the child more comfortable.

When the child is interviewed, detectives, CPS workers and prosecutors have the ability to observe the interview through a one-way mirror. Most interviews are also recorded on DVD, a copy of which is given to the investigating detective before he/she leaves the building. This reduces the need for multiple interviews, and the child does not need to relive the abuse a variety of times to an assortment of people in a multitude of settings.

Holding more offenders accountable: By having neutral, quality interviews conducted by an interviewer who is specifically trained, prosecutors are able to charge and convict a higher number of child abusers. The already small chance that someone may be wrongly charged is also reduced.

Offer comprehensive services to children and their non-offending family members: Child abuse is a horrific crime. Children and their non-offending family members deserve to receive services to assist them in the healing process. SARC offers support and advocacy and explains the many services we provide. Therapy referrals are also provided. SARC has on-site counseling available, as well as grant funds for counseling for families with limited resources.

Structure

The Benton County Prosecuting Attorney's Office is responsible for the employment and supervision of the Child Interviewer and the financial administration related to this function. SARC is responsible for the employment and supervision of the advocates and counselor, and the financial administration related to these positions.

Funding

Our local city and county governments provide funding for the Child Interviewer and related expenses. The advocate positions and related expenses are funded through private grants, fundraising, state funds and United Way. The facility is a joint effort between SARC, local city and county governments, private grants and community donations.

Interviews were conducted for 279 children in Benton and Franklin counties:

- Charging decisions are made quicker.
- More offenders are being held accountable.
- Children are being connected to counseling services much earlier.
- Children are not re-traumatized through the interview process.
- Non-offending family members are provided the support services they need.
